It is a responsibility we are failing to meet. According to statistics from the U.S. Department of Education, the gap in eighth-grade reading and math test scores between low-income students and their wealthier peers hasn't shrunk at all over the past 20 years. (The gap between poor and wealthier fourth-grade students narrowed during those two decades, but only by a tiny amount.)

A grade-equivalent score is a type of derived score that identifies the grade level at which the typical child obtains that raw score. Age-equivalent and grade-equivalent scores are derived by determining the average score obtained on a test by children of various ages or grade placements. Age equivalents may be expressed in months or years.
